It's Déjà Vu All Over Again: Mind Trips, Brain Flips and Time Slips

"Does the feeling ever come over you that you've been here before or done this before, even if you know you haven't?"

San Francisco, CA (June 1, 2010) — A new book by the best-selling author, Marie D. Jones, and paranormal researcher Larry Flaxman, lays out intriguing new theories about the phenomenon of "déjà vu", a feeling that all of us experience throughout our lives. The Déjà vu Enigma: A Journey Through the Anomalies of Mind, Memory and Time explores the eerie yet common sensation of "remembering" an experience or a situation that never occurred.

You engage in a conversation and suddenly realize that you have spoken those same words before . . . to the same person. Yet, you're absolutely positive that it's the first time you've ever met.

The Déjà vu Enigma delves into scientific research as it relates to short-term memory misfires, neurophysiological disorders, and theories suggesting the paranormal, such as glimpses into parallel realities. Now, how could Jones and Flaxman fans resist that?

Déjà vu is only one of the many mysteries of the mind. The Déjà vu Enigma also explores:

- Memory lapses, missing time and fugue states
- The brain as both receiver and transmitter of reality
- Altered states of perception and consciousness, from hallucinations to religious visions
- Contagious thought, curses, demonic possession and mass hysteria
- Dream states, lucid dreaming and precognitive dreams
- The grid and parallel universes as travel routes for mind trips, brain flips, and time slips

The Déjà vu Enigma is a jet-propelled journey through the inner universe of the human mind.

One of the most well-known researchers and authors on the subject of metaphysics and the paranormal, Jones has appeared on “Coast to Coast AM” and many more popular radio and TV programs around the world. She has written hundreds of articles, reviews and essays, and is the author of several best-selling books, including:

The Resonance Key (with Flaxman)

11:11 The Time Prompt Phenomenon (with Flaxman)

2013: The End of Days or A New Beginning?

PSIence: How New Discoveries in Quantum Physics and New Science May Explain the Existence of Paranormal Phenomena

Supervolcano: The Catastrophic Event That Changed the Course of Human History

A paranormal researcher and investigator for more than a decade, Larry Flaxman is the founder and president of ARPAST, the Arkansas Paranormal and Anomalous Studies Team. He has written dozens of articles and has been featured in numerous newspaper, magazine, radio and TV interviews. Flaxman and co-author Jones are the founders of ParaExplorers.com.
