From the White House to the Tower Of London The World is a Haunted Place

"Nobody in the paranormal knows ghosts like Jeff Belanger. This book is the closest you'll come to going on an investigation without actually being there."

~ Nick Groff

from the Travel Channel's Ghost Adventures

San Francisco, CA (September 15, 2011) — Jeff Belanger's revised edition of his bestseller, The World's Most Haunted Places, explores in heart-stopping detail the history, folklore and ghostly legends behind some of the world's eeriest places.

Speaking with witnesses, psychics and ghost hunters, who tell their stories and share their research on haunted places around the globe, Belanger takes readers on a tour of the supernatural and the macabre, traveling to author-haunted libraries, museums, restaurants, inns and landmarks from North America, South America, Europe, and Australia.

A gifted storyteller, Belanger is one of the acknowledged masters of hauntings and ghostly tales throughout history, from battlefields, prisons and asylums to national monuments.

- ☹ President Lincoln walks the halls of the White House today.
- ☹ The Queen Mary may be the most storied and haunted ship on the planet.
- ☹ Catacombs in Paris contain the skeletal remains of six million bodies . . . and many of their ghosts.
- ☹ The Tower of London is haunted by noblemen and commoners—some are still searching for the heads they lost more than 500 years ago.

"If you are looking for historic haunts and some cold chills to run down your spine, you have come to the right place. Belanger is one of the acknowledged masters of American hauntings. This book will have you looking over your shoulder long after closing the cover."

Troy Taylor, founder of the American Ghost Society
