

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

On the Edge of Reality

By Colin and Synthia Andrews

1. What is your background and how did you get involved with this work?
2. What made the most impact on you after you started researching crop circles?
3. The BBC Director John Macnish stated that when he filmed you and your co-author, Pat Delgado, in the early 1990's, he felt you knew more about the crop circles than you admitted. What do you say to that now, more than two decades later?
4. Research you conducted in the late 1990's on the level of man-made circle making was funded by Philanthropist, Laurance Rockefeller. You announced a significantly higher than expected number of man-made circles during the study. This created controversy as well as a change in direction for you. What was the change of direction and what has happened since then?
5. Talk about some of the bizarre cases you have studied and have personally witnessed that convinced you that there is another mind interacting with both researchers and human crop circle-makers.
6. You have extraordinary examples in the book 'On the Edge of Reality' of what appears to be another intelligence interacting directly with humans in a wide range of situations. Can you give us some examples and tell us what this mind is and where you think it comes from?
7. Is there a message in this interaction and if yes, why is it arriving now?
8. How do you define Consciousness?
9. You have received outstanding endorsements and reviews for this book. Why do you think your work has been met with such excitement and interest?

10. You have a very wide range of interests any one of which could be a life's work for many people. You have been a government official, sportsman, author as well as an engineer, photographer, environmentalists and futurist. Why stay with your long study of consciousness? What are your concerns about the future?
11. What is your mission?
12. 'On the Edge of Reality' has been written with your wife, Dr. Synthia Andrews, who is a naturopathic physician. How did you meet and have you both experienced high strangeness events together?
13. Where can people come to see you, where are you and your wife appearing next?
14. What is your website and where can folks buy the book? Why did you choose to take on the subject of time travel at this point in "time"?
