Angels Exist

By Joanne Brocas

(1489 words)

ANGELS ARE CELESTIAL BEINGS that radiate divine light and work on behalf of their creator God for the greater good of mankind. Angelic beings also assist in managing and maintaining order within the universe, and this involves the intervention of different ranks of angels who are attributed divine knowledge and wisdom, divine power, and who have specific divine roles and tasks given to them by God. It is because of the differing knowledge and power awarded to the angels that we have what is known as the angelic or celestial hierarchy. It is said that there are nine choirs of angels, which are also divided into three distinct orders or spheres. The angels closest to God will have more divine knowledge, wisdom, and power bestowed on them than the orders directly ranked below them, thus the hierarchy is formed. Each distinct order and each individual choir have specific tasks and divine roles and all choirs carry out the will of God.

- The first order of angels are said to be closest to God. They protect the divine throne and they constantly sing the praises of God and help to maintain the vibration of creation.
- The second order of angels are said to manage the daily functioning of the heavens and they help to maintain the balance of the universe. They receive orders from the angels closest to God and they carry out these orders. They also give tasks to the angels ranked below them.
- The third order of angels are said to watch over mankind and the earth plane and they act as divine messengers and protectors of people. This order of angels includes the mighty and powerful archangels, and the best known of all the angels – the guardian angels.

Guardian Angels

The guardian angels are with us daily and their love for us is unconditional. They minister to us on behalf of God and they take our prayers to God and bring back the answers to us that are always in alignment with our greatest good. Part of their divine role is to help to keep us safe from harm and to help prevent our passing before our allocated time so that we can fulfil our life purpose and destiny. Guardian angels will try their best to lovingly influence us to make wiser life choices so that we can alleviate much unnecessary pain, suffering, or any irritating mistakes we make through our own free will. They cannot interfere with our spiritual lessons and if we are meant to experience certain temporary obstacles or temporary difficult life circumstances, then they cannot take this away from us, but they can help to spiritually support us through these testing times.

Guardian angels can also send us healing when we are sick, and they can help us to cross paths with other people who can play an important role in attaining our heart's desires. Some people will have more than one guardian angel assigned to them depending on their life task and purpose. Most people have closed their hearts and minds to their guardian angels and this is why the person must want to receive help from a higher power and must reach out to a higher power to "ask for help" as this will then establish their personal spiritual connection with their guardian angel.

What Do Angels Look Like?

Angels are spiritual beings and therefore they do not have physical bodies. They are typically unseen and invisible beings of divine light that differ from each other in vibrational frequency depending on their place and role within the angelic hierarchy. The angels can also manifest any kind of physical form they wish, to assist in a divine task on earth, but always under the direction and will of God – this is known as divine intervention. Most guardian angels and many other angelic beings do however have physical features and will vibrate the appearance of human form. Most angelic beings have wings of light, which we have come to know as white feathered wings and this is the universally accepted perception of what angels look like.

Angels are often depicted in this way in paintings and great works of art. Other angelic forms, such as the mighty Seraphim and the Cherubim, have unusual features according to scripture and research. The study of angels is known as angelology and it is certainly a fascinating subject to research. Angels have an energy field of different colors, which are especially associated with their specific divine role and with their individual appearance. An example of this is with the mighty and powerful "Archangel Michael," who has legions of angels working with him on the blue ray of divine light, and these are known as the blue ray angels. The main role of the angels on a personal level is to help assist us from behind the physical scenes of our life and to help guide us and protect us along our life path without interfering with our free will.

How to Communicate with Angels

As angels are spiritual beings you interact with them in subtle intuitive ways, which are non-physical. Everyone is intuitive and the more self-aware you become, then the stronger your natural intuition becomes. It is much easier than you may consider to be able to sense, hear, and see the angels around you. However, if you are waiting for physical evidence of the angels around you as proof of their existence, then you may be waiting a very long time and you will miss out on the loving guidance of the angelic realm because you will naturally block all other avenues of communication. The angels are able to and are happy to bring you certain signs as “tangible evidence” that they are around you; such as a white feather, a butterfly or a reference to angels by others etc. but they “will not” appear in physical form, or speak to you in a direct physical sounding voice just to satisfy your desire for proof of their existence. To be able to spiritually sense, see, and hear the angels through your intuitive nature you simply need to relax your body and energy field and ignite your faith and belief that your guardian angel is by your side.

So how do you know if you are sensing, hearing, and seeing angels if they are typically unseen? Sensing the angels is very subtle but it will evoke a calm feeling within your nervous system, you can also have the sensation of feeling safe and secure, and you may have a physical sensation of body warmth when the angels are near. You can also feel overly joyous or instantly uplifted when you sense the angels around you. Simply ask your guardian angel to surround you with their loving energy so that you can “feel/sense them.” The touch of angelic energy on your own vibration is very uplifting and healing. Seeing the angels will also be very subtle and will work through your intuitive mind and imagination. You may have a mental picture and quick glimpse within your mind of what your guardian angel looks like, or you may even see your guardian angel within your dream state. You can also use the art of meditation to intuitively see what your guardian angel looks like. You may see sparkles of light, different colors of light, or a human looking angel with white wings. Let your imagination roam free and your creative mind will activate your desire to see what the angels look like as they will impress their image within your imagination.

Hearing the angels will again be very subtle and so much so that you can often feel like you are making it all up. The angels will work through your mental energy by filtering angelic guidance through your own thought process. The thoughts will always be positive, uplifting, healing, and inspiring when they are angelic in nature. Angels love to whisper their helpful guidance to us in the hope that we will listen. We have free will to pay attention and choose our own paths, but when you ask for help from a higher power, then the angels will work in co-creation with you and God, and you will be aligned with a power that is far greater than yourself alone. Faith and belief in a higher power are the key ingredients to help you activate powerful spiritual assistance within your life. God’s holy angels can and will help you in all your ways, and all you need to do is to remember to Ask!

“For he shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.” Psalm 91:11
