

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Andrea Saarkoppel

Paranormal Investigator Andrea Saarkoppel has had a lifelong affinity for anything unexplained. It began with family ghost stories, then continued to grow by watching “In Search Of...” hosted by Leonard Nimoy. As she got older, she began experiencing a wide range of paranormal phenomena that scared her, so she learned various techniques to investigate the odd experiences encountered. As she assisted in carrying out paranormal conferences, her vast network of fellow researchers, with their own expert opinions and cutting-edge procedures, grew immensely. Now, wherever she goes, people seek her to entrust with strange, personal stories.

Andrea was born and raised in Ontario, Canada, and has investigated many locations in the country. She has appeared on Canadian news television discussing a local, historical landmark and the ghostly residents her investigation revealed. She has traveled the world researching and experiencing the mysteries beyond current scientific grasp. Her travels have included Romania, France, The Bermuda Triangle and the heart of Mayan culture – Belize - for the end of the Mayan Calendar. Numerous historic locations in the USA have also been investigated, including, the island of Alcatraz, the St. Augustine Lighthouse, The Queen Mary, the Battlefields of Gettysburg and Eastern State and Mansfield Penitentiaries.
