

ARTICLE

Resurrection

By Paddy Fievet, Ph.D.
(272 words)

---

There will come a time in your life when you will no longer allow yourself to be swayed in a wrong direction, a time when you are tired of having your pertinent questions answered by a condescending pat on the head. You will be able to see through lies while standing solidly in truth, regardless of how hard that is to do.

Sooner or later, you will speak up because it is the right thing to do, even if others disagree. When you move forward into genuineness, walking singularly into your own direction, you will realize that you are stronger and more courageous than you thought possible.

Ultimately, you will understand that true family is not about genetics, and real friendship is not self-serving; instead, both are absolutely about love, honor, and respect. When you let go of anger, resentment, and avarice, you will be making your decisions in tandem with God's Grace.

Sooner or later your victimization will be a thing of the past and your true power will be based on spiritual fortitude. There will be a time when you have learned that life events cannot be overwhelming unless you surrender to them, and that your attitude dictates your level of joy—most things are not as important as they seem at the time!

Eventually, you will know that your life is a Sacred Story. Everything else is nothing more than just a sentence or a page along the way.

---

© Paddy Fievet, PhD, is the author of When Life Cried Out; One Woman's Spiritual Quest to be Fully Alive and The Making of a Mystic; Writing as a Form of Spiritual Emergence, published by Cloverhurst Publications, 2015.