

THE UNIVERSE SPEAKS: THE LOVE AND PAIN OF 2012-2025

By Roar Sheppard

A Conversation with Mother Gaia and the State of the Earth Now

Why do tears well up in my eyes and sorrows rush in my heart when I talk with you Mother Gaia?

(The Earth enters my body and fully fills up my heart.)

Because this is my present state....

(I have sighs and deep breaths continuously.)

I feel so sad and frustrated that I can't describe.

Yes, I can also feel you.

I am sorry to ask you as one of those who made you fall into this condition, but would you tell me why your mind is this sore?

I am so ill to the extent that I can't endure it. However, those who are ignorant of this pain account for majority of people on the Earth. Why are they so indifferent even though I, who is the ground that they step on as well as the basis that provide the growth of all lives and food to eat, am suffering this badly? I am bruised and wounded by the indifference and despicable deeds of human beings. I feel like giving up any expectation or hope.

What is the first thing that humans need to be concerned about in order to protect you?

First you should understand how the Earth is now. Pay attention to the message that the Earth is now giving. In order to change the world in large, many people need to make efforts at the same time. Even if it is just a small action, when many people participate in it, this will bring about a great change. Like you do not use disposable products, produce less garbage, grow even a single tree sincerely and so on – whatever it is, put one thing for the Earth into practice every day and become awakened; this is the condition I want from you.

Why were we born on the Earth?

Why were we Earthlings born on this complex planet and why have we been suffering? We could have been born on other planets, so is it just because we had a bad luck of draw?

Hahaha! To draw a conclusion first, those who were born on the Earth at this age have had an extremely good luck. It is a long story if I tell you all the reasons. Let me tell you a few of them. You are wondering "Why was I born on the Earth and have to live a difficult life like this?", but the difficult life usually lasts no more than 80 years.

Compared to the age of your soul that has lived tens of thousands of years or even millions of years, that is as short as one flash of lightning. Depending on how you spend the time period at this school, you can accomplish incredible progress even in one lifetime. To achieve such progress it may take other souls in the Universe millions of years, even tens of millions of years. What's important is whether you know the fact and make good use of it, or whether you just regress without knowing it and are swept by circumstances around you.

Future Politics

After the great change, do you think that political parties like you see now will be created? Will a party like the progressive or conservative be significant then?

Haha, parties won't be active anymore after the great change. Some people who used to have power might want to create such a party but since people will be spiritually enlightened at that time, major directions will be decided according to the will of Universe.

Those who will survive will become people who understand the Universe. There must be a lot of variables that might occur in the transitional period but the current political system won't be formed again. The most spiritually evolved and wise person will make important decisions as it is on evolved planets. Such systems will be adopted naturally in a small area and as this will spread to a larger area, so will nation and the entire world be led in this way.

On Love and Sex

I will move on to the love affairs. What will be the standard of an ideal type of love affair be? Will this change?

At the early stage, a powerful and muscular guy will be the mainstream. Because the situation during the changing period won't be easy to live out, the man who can protect and has power to pioneer would be an ideal type.

But as the society recovers its stability, the man who is good at communication will be in favor more and more. The man who is not just farming through strength, the man who communicates with nature and the Universe and understand and loves wounded people's hearts would become an ideal type. Even now, it is like this too; the person who understands one's mind well would be an ideal type.

I see. It is an eternal truth. But the reality is like "I don't even understand my mind". If there is an ability that can understand other's mind, it will be an outstanding skill.

That's because people don't try to feel. The attitude of trying to commune, trying to know and trying to feel is the basic attitude of love. Just showing and delivering your emotion is the egoistic love only for yourself, it is not the love that communicates. This is applicable even now, so bear this in mind.

Ah... I see. Anyway, I think it is a problem that nowadays people's partners in love change too often. In the future, will the situation be the same?

It will change a bit. The social atmosphere of now days is the same all over the world, it is the culture created by the obsession with sex. 'How can I get to sleep with her, how can I have new stimulation', people concentrate on these things. That's why they always create the same situation, looking for a new partner and replacing them over and over again.

However, it will be a bit different in the future society. The senses of human beings will be developed without precedent so that even if people are in love with just one person, people would feel much more than they do now, so they will experience a fulfilled feeling of love. It would be same for the sexual engagement as well, people will have the feeling that is several times stronger than the orgasm that current humanity has. People won't even feel the need to look for a new date. On the contrary if one has any negativity towards their partners it will be sensed instantly. The New Humankind will not be able to hide their mind and emotions, let alone cheat in a relationship.

In the beginning, this phenomenon will start out from women and this will give men a difficult time, but later men's senses will be slowly awakened as well and will sense women's minds. Then people will be satisfied with just one partner. How long they would continue their relationship will depend on each other, and since they know well that they can't hide anything, they will move on to the direction of evolution before the love cools down.

You won't attract opposite sexes because of loneliness. But since you will live a community life with neighboring friends and colleagues, your life will always be balanced in terms of yin and yang. Consequently, rather than looking for someone to replenish your insufficient yang or yin energy from, you will become attracted to the one who has the energy you need out of the Five Elements: Tree, Fire, Soil, Metal and Water. And you are well-aware of which energy deficiency caused you to feel attracted to the person, hence marital harmony and saju¹ will become quite an important study.
